NEW MUKDEN TUCHUN TRIES TO SAVE FACE FOR CHANG

Goos "To Act As Substitute Few Days".

WU SARCASTIC

Foreigners In Peitaiho District Are Uneasy

BY JOSEF W. HALL
Staff Correspondent the China Press

Paotingfu, May 24.—Wu Chun-seng, Peking's appointee to the Fengtien tuchunship, passed Chungchun yesterday with a thousand bodyguards enroute to Mukden to assume his new office. He has informed General Wu Pei-fu that he is assuming the Tunchunship "not in deference to Peking, but at the request of Chang Tso-lin to substitute for him (Chang) a few days."

This drew from General Wu the remark: "Aren't the Chinese great face savers?"

It is reported here that Chang Tso-lin and his forces left Shanhaikwan yesterday, and that his headquarters are now at Chinchow.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 24.—Telegrams received here today from Chinwangtao and Peitaiho report much excitement among the foreigners and Chinese owing to the attitude of the Fengtien troops. Practically all the well-to-do Chinese of Chinwangtao have encamped on the beach or have departed on board merchant vessels. British residents have asked a British gunboat to send guards to Chinwangtao and its waterworks and also to Peitaiho.

The Fengtien troops yesterday disarmed the Chinwangtao police, and 500 of them have occupied Chinwangtao Railway Station. Peitaiho residents report that Fengtien troops have occupied the surrounding villages and have notified their intention of occupying the beach. The last message received says that the Fengtien troops are approaching the Foreign Settlement.

The main body of the Fengtien troops, numbering approximately 35,000, are inside the Great Wall at Shanhaikuan. General Chang Tso-lin and his staff are residing in railway carriages and gravitating between Shanhaikuan and Chinchow, where a new position has been prepared with 10,000 troops. The remainder of the Fengtien troops are distributed along the railway between Peitaiho and Chinchow. The Fengtien troops arre also digging trenches to the west of Shanhaikuan.

General Chang Tso-lin again boldly announces his intention to remain where he is and to fight if General Wu Pei-fu approaches.

The apparent inaction of the Chihli troops seems to have convinced General Chang Tso-lin that General Wu Pei-fu does not intend further to advance, but there is reason to believe that the Chihli forces are carrying out a fresh movement, which is calculated to lead to another quick Fengtien strategic retreat.

In any case the Fengtien troops are demoralised, according to various reports, and are unlikely to offer much resistance to any form of attack.

Peking, May 24.—Telegrams from Canton, dated May 23, report that 10,000 Cantonese troops are outside the city and demand the restoration of General Chen Chiung-ming, threatening to loot the city should their demand not be granted.

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Canton, May 23.—General Chen Chiung-ming is coming to Canton immediately to take command of the center line. Before proceeding to the Kiangsi front, however, he will leave for Wuchow and settle the affairs of Kiangsi, after which he will take command of the center line composed of Cantonese, Kuangsi and Hunan troops.

Canton, May 23.—General Wang Ta-wei, a British returned student who is taking one of the leading parts in the anti-Northern campaign, occupied Changkangkee on the 18th, according to messages received here. On the 19th he pursued the Kiangsi troops past Kuliang and Minying.

Shanghai Public School Turns Out Winning Team In Boy Scout Competition

Rain Fails To Put Damper On "Jamboree;" Successful Program Of Stunts Gone Through On Camp Grounds

The caprices of the Weather Clerk, disconcerting as they may be to some people, are nothing in the life of the Boy Scout.

Nine hundred and ninety-nine people out of every 1,000 here yesterday delivered themselves of maledictions directed at the head of the agency which controls the local atmospheric status. It completely upset their program. The odd members of the thousands cited constitute the Boy Scouts. They may have thought hard things about the weather, but they didn't allow it to interfere with their schedule.

The Scout "Jamboree," arranged for the purpose of raising funds to provide an adequate camping ground for the organisation's activities, was announced to take place "wet or fine." And take place it did, despite the handicap of a sullen day of wetness. Moreover, it came off in such admirable style that one finds it difficult to pardon the weather clerk—for the reason that he prevented a great many more people from witnessing the Baden-Powell and American organisations of Scouts in their excellent program of Scout activities.

The Jamboree was staged on the present temporary grounds of the organisation on Avenue Haig in the presence of a crowd of spectators who made up for their fewness by their enthusiasm.

The program opened with a grand rally of the troops and a march past, with a general salute to the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, raised at the start of the ceremony by Scout George Tuxford and Patrol Leader Aires—the two Scouts who sold the greatest number of tickets to the Jamboree—who were afterward presented to Major General Sir John Fowler, and the other distinguished guests at the affair.

SIR JOHN FOWLER PRAISES

At the conclusion of the march past, Major General Sir John Fowler, who is Commander of all British forces in China, addressed the lads briefly, complimenting them sincerely for their appearance and precision of drill under the most adverse of conditions—the grounds were a sea of mud—and extending his congratulations to their training staff for the efficiency with which the work was accomplished. Inspection of the troops was carried out by the Chief Scout, Mr. C. F. Garstin, Acting British Consul-General, and Mr. E. S. Cunningham, United States Consul-General. Then the program proper began.

The first item on the list was a cooking test, and it was in this event that the troop of the Public School for Boys shot into the lead with a margin which enabled them easily to carry off the honors of the day.

Given a box containing six matches, a brace of eggs and a quantity of firewood the contending teams were required to fry the eggs in a limited space of time. The Public School Boys expended one match, shielded the blaze with their scanty Scout apparel to such advantage and managed the affair so efficiently in general that the henfruit were done to a succulent turn well within the measured

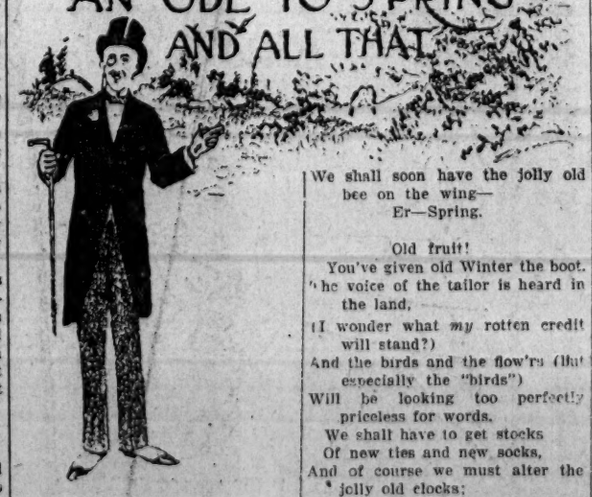
AN ODE TO SPRING AND ALL THAT



Er—Spring!

You perfectly priceless old thing!
I'm frightfully bucked at the signs that one sees;
The jolly old sap in the topping old trees;
The priceless old lilac, and that sort of rot;
It jolly well cheers a chap up, does it not?
It's so fearfully bright;
So amazingly right,
And one feels as one feels if one gets rather tight.
There's a tang in the air,
If you know what I mean,
And the grass, as it were,
Is so frightfully green.

We shall soon have the jolly old bee on the wing—
Er—Spring.

Old fruit!
You've given old Winter the boot.
The voice of the tailor is heard in the land,
(I wonder what my rotten credit will stand?)
And the birds and the flow'rs (but especially the "birds")
Will be looking too perfectly priceless for words.
We shall have to get stocks
Of new ties and new socks,
And of course we must alter the jolly old clocks;
So a young fellow's fancy
Turns nat'rally towards
The river and Nancie,
Or Betty and Lord's.
In fact—as I said—you're a priceless old thing,
Er—Spring.

Old bean!
It's—well, it's—you know what I mean.
It's time I was oiling the jolly old
bat,
So, cutting a long story short, and all that,
The theme of this jolly old song
that I sing,
Is—er—jolly old Spring!

Empire Day Observed By All Of Shanghai Despite Bad Weather Conditions

Raising Of Flag By Boy Scouts Opens Celebration; Services At Cathedral, Parade On Consulate Grounds And Jamboree Complete Program

Empire day with its absolute surrender to the ideals and principals of the British Empire was celebrated yesterday in Shanghai in spite of rain, and dreary weather and cold and other miserable weather conditions.

Britons, from every province, and every other nationality as well joined in the celebration of the most important holiday of the Empire. All of Shanghai, from the Boy Scouts of every nation to the elder bankers and business men of every other country paid respect to the big British holiday.

The principal event of the day was the parade of the British units of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps at the British Consulate. The event was timed for noon, immediately after the short service at the Holy Trinity Cathedral. In spite of the heavy rain which fell at that time, the turnout was better than fair. Weather conditions were not so good for an Empire Day or any other celebration, but the spirit of unification of the whole British Empire dominated the day that a mere shower of rain was as nothing.

The Boy Scouts of Shanghai had their big day yesterday. They dominated nearly every function from early morning until the final closing of formal observance of the day. They had the honor of opening the day's exercises when at eight o'clock in the morning they paraded at the British consulate for the hoisting of the flag, and they carried on with their Jamboree and other observances throughout the day until dark.

When the flag was hoisted at the consulate there was, aside from a strong turnout of Scouts, a good number of Girl Guides, Brownies and Wolf Cubs. The whole parade was in charge of Scoutmaster Millington. Every officer of the Scouts was present. The contingent marched past the flagstaff prior to the hoisting of the flag and Major General Sir John Fowler, Officer Commanding His British Majesty's Troops in Hongkong and China came on parade when the General's Salute was given by the Baden-Powell Scouts and the Flag was saluted. Sir John then complimented the scout band on their excellence in playing and followed with an inspection of the Girl Guides, the Brownies and the Wolf Cubs.

Another feature of the Empire Day observance was the service held at the Holy Trinity Cathedral from 10:45 until 11:15 yesterday morning. A good congregation attended, including Girl Guides in uniform, a number of returned officers, nurses and officers of female organisations who served in the war.

The service opened with the singing of the hymn "Oh, God, our help in ages past." The lesson was from 1st Peter H, XI, and after prayers for His British Majesty and the High Court of Parliament, "Oh God, of Earth and Altar" was sung.

The Sub-Dean then preached a short address, taking as his text "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

FOR SERVICE AND PURITY

"We had been nursed," he said, "on the great broad bosom of the British Empire and had been taught to look at things in a manly straight-forward way. We had been brought up to be magnanimous to those who were weak, chivalrous to those who needed help, gentle and patient to fools; just, dead stern just—meting out pure justice. We were taught to be wise and sympathetic and—above all things—to prize honor and virtue."

The Sub-Dean concluded by referring to the red, white and blue of the flag—red for service and suffering, white for purity of purpose, our untainted ideals, and blue for the Heavenly Kingdom. Every coin had its two sides and so also we must live in the image of God and render unto God the things that are God's; that image should be undefaced, unpolluted, clean, pure and unsullied. It was a cause for thankfulness that there was no conflict of loyalties for those who belonged to the British Empire.

The service concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

AT THE CONSULATE

The proceedings for the parade at the British Consulate were short but impressive. There was a very large turnout of British members of the S. V. C. with the usual detachment of naval men from H. M. warships in the river. At the reception stands behind the saluting base there was a large gathering of prominent members of the British community, including Mr. C. F. Garstin, Acting Consul-General, Messrs. H. H. Fox and J. F. Brenan, of the Consular Staff, Mr. Peter Grain, Acting Chief Judge, H.M. Supreme Court, Mr. A. G.

PROGRAMS MARK COMPLETION OF A'M SCHOOL YEAR

Pleasing Entertainments Given By Physical Training And Music Departments

The open season for commencements is already on and the Shanghai American School began its program of closing exercises on Tuesday afternoon with a most interesting series of games and dances presented by the girls of the school on the compound of the Eliza Yates School, North Szechuen Road.

Miss Frances L. Tayor, who is in charge of the Department of Physical Training for Girls, in spite of the fact that she has been obliged to work without a gymnasium and with very little equipment, presented a program which showed remarkably efficient training.

The program was as follows:

1. Processional, Maze Marching — All
2. Crested Hen (Danish) — Division I
3. Kull Dansen (Swedish) — Division III
4. Three Dance (Danish) — Special Class
5. Wands — Division III
6. Ribbon Dance (English) — Division I
7. Laudnum Bunches (English) — Division II
8. Hoops — Division I
9. Four Dance (Danish) — Special Class
10. Free Extension Drill — All
11. Garland Dance — Division II and III
12. Wands — Division IV
13. Oxdansen (Swedish) — Division III
14. Russian Dance — Division IV
15. Balls — Special Class
16. May Pole-Spider Web — All
17. Games-Circle Relay -Maltese Cross
18. Virginia Reel — Everybody

Divisions I, II, III, IV were trained by members of the special class under supervision.

Second on the list of commencement events was the piano recital given at the Carlton Cafe yesterday afternoon by the advanced pupils of the Music Department of the American School. Before a large audience the young pianists presented a most ambitious program in a manner highly creditable both to themselves and their teachers, Mrs. S. E. Taylor, Miss Sarah Perkins, and Miss Bernice Austin. The numbers are as follows:

March of the Dwarfs .... Grieg
Marjorie Wiley
Variations in F minor .. Haydn
If I Were a Bird ..... Henselt
Elizabeth Grier
Impromptu, op. 29 .... Chopin
Kamennoi Ostrow .. Rubinstein
Dorothy Birney
Solfeggietto .... Ph. Em. Bach
Love Dream ..... Liszt
Sarah McFadyen
Etude, op. 25, no. 2 .... Chopin
Hark, Hark, the Lark — Schubert-Liszt
Frances Bowen
To the Sea ..... Mac Dowell
Nautilus ..... Mac Dowell
In Mid-Ocean ..... Mac Dowell
Loretta Crawford

Other items which promise much interest are the Class Day Exercises on June 3, at 8 p.m. at the Eliza Yates Chapel; Baccalaureate address on Sunday, June 4, at 5 p.m. at the Community Church (Masonic Hall) with Dr. Latimer of Hangchow speaking; the operetta "Bulbul" at the Olympic on the evening of June 7, and Commencement itself on Thursday, June 8, at 5:30 at the Olympic with Dr. Kenneth Latourette of Yale University as speaker.

LASCARS, FEAR CRAZED, CAUSED PANIC ON EGYPT

Except For Members Of Crew, All Would Have Escaped

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 23.—French newspapers have published stories of the panic on board the Egypt. Admiral Scherer, Maritime Prefect at Brest, interviewed by a representative of the Petit Journal, said that when the collision occurred terrible scenes were witnessed on the ship. Knives were drawn and revolvers fired.

A survivor in an interview said that there was a desperate panic of terrified women and children who rushed in all directions. He alleged that a lascar shot dead a passenger who tried to get his wife into a boat which was besieged by lascars.

He declared that a number of lascars jumped into a boat in which there were women and children. The boat was overturned and the occupants thrown into the sea.

The Petit Journal's correspondent declares that all the passengers agree that almost everybody could have been saved if the lascars had behaved differently.

Dr. Bremner, the Medical Officer of the Egypt, who was drowned, had returned from China only a fortnight previously. He was one of those who remained on board to the last.

When the vessel went down he clung to a deck chair near another officer to whom he said, "Goodbye old chap, I am going under," he then let go and disappeared.

EUROPEAN MAIL ARRIVING TODAY ON TWO STEAMERS

Mails for Europe are to be dispatched on Saturday on the French Mail liner Angkor and will close at the British Post Office at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon for ordinary matter and at 5 o'clock for registered mail. The Angkor is due to dock at the S.M.R. Whangpoo wharf this morning and is to sail for Marseilles at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

A mail from Europe is due to arrive today on the P. and O. steamer Delta and another on the French liner Angers. The Delta sailed from London on April 7 and is to dock at the Shanghai and Hongkew wharf. The Angers, arriving in the afternoon, is to be berthed at the Blue Funnel Lower Buoy. Following these vessels the next mail from Europe is due in on Monday on the Arayle Rideau.

The next mail from America is to arrive on the steamer Wenatchee, due here on May 30 and the next outbound mail for America is to be dispatched on the steamer President Wilson, sailing May 30.

TLS. 300,000 LOSS IN FIRE AT GODOWNS IN POOTUNG

N.K.K. Stores Consumed; Breeze Aids Flames

FIRE BOATS OUT

Thirty Streams Turned On Blaze; Colorful Spectacle

Damage estimated at Tls. 300,000 was done by a fire yesterday that swept No. 2 and No. 3 godowns of the Nissin Kisen Kaisha on the Pootung side of the river.

The fire which started on the upper story of No. 2 godown was discovered at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and by the time efforts to check it were organised it had spread through big shipments of paper, hemp, Swatow palm leaf fans and other merchandise and had set alight the adjoining structure. The two godowns had frontages of approximately 150 feet on the river and were 250 feet deep and the bulk of the goods stored in them were in course of trans-shipment to Hankow and ports up the Yangtsze river.

All available apparatus on the Pootung side of the river was brought into play to fight the flames without delay and in a short time detachments from the Fire Department of the International Settlement under the direction of Acting Chief Officer Dyson together with three fire boats were on the scene. The efforts of the other fire fighters later were supplemented by a detatchment of forty Japanese marines who were landed from the gunboat Tsushimi.

FANNED BY BREEZE

Fanned by a breeze from the southeast the flames enveloped the two big structures in the space of a half hour providing a colorful spectacle. After a period of desperate effort the whole blazing area at length was surrounded by the firefighters who had brought into service no less than a mile of hose lines from which thirty streams were directed into the blaze holding it within bounds and away from adjoining godowns which for a time were seriously menaced.

How the fire originated had not definitely been ascertained last night but the belief was advanced that a coolie had disregarded rules against smoking in Godown No. 2 and had thrown a lighted cigarette end into an oil soaked corner of the structure.

While workers were still struggling for mastery of the flames goods stored in adjoining Godowns No. 4 and 6 were removed to open ground and the steamer Luzon Maru which had been moored in front of the two blazing structures was shifted to the Tung Ka Doo wharf. An effort that was made to save a part of the goods stored in the burning godowns had to be abandoned by reason of the intense heat and the danger of falling roofs.

General Manager Yomisata of the Nissen Kisen Kaisha, who remained on the scene until the fire was brought under control, said no definite estimate could be placed upon the extent of the loss which was covered by insurance but he said if the stored shipments that were destroyed had been overseas cargo the loss would have been much heavier.

Considerable assistance in checking the fire was given by men of the Robert Dollar launch Billie Dollar and the Chinese boatswain on this craft was one of those injured, receiving a severe gash on the arm. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital for treatment.

WU WANTS TWO CABINET POSTS FILLED AT ONCE

He Urges Appointment Of Finance And Rail Chiefs

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, May 24.—According to Cabinet quarters, Wang Shih-chen's Cabinet is sure to be realised after the Dragon Festival. General Wu Pei-fu has of late requested the Government to announce the appointments of Ministers of Finance and Communications immediately. The Government has already put down Mr. Tung Kang for Minister of Finance but he is still hesitant to take up the post. It is expected that the appointment of Mr. Kao En-hung as Minister of Communications will be announced in a day or two.

In order to relieve the financial stringency of the Government in connection with the Dragon Festival, the Ministry of Finance has decided to issue treasury notes with the surplus of salt gabelle as security amounting to $7,000,000, for which the Ministry has, it is alleged, already obtained approval from Sir Francis Aglen. In this connection, it is reported that the Chinese Government has of late applied to the Consortium for a loan, leading to the holding of meetings on Saturday and Friday last of the Ministers of the four Powers and of several meetings of the Consortium, but these meetings have, it is said, all ended without reaching any concrete decision.

BRITAIN PLANS TO SPEND £500 AT WEIHEIWAI

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 23.—In the debate in the House of Commons today on Naval works an item of £500 with respect to Weihaiwei was queried in view of its pending restitution to China. Mr. Eyres-Monsell said that at present we were awaiting a Conference with China on the whole question of Weihaiwei, in the meantime the Chinese Government permitted us to use the place for a health resort purely. This was its greatest advantage and the money mentioned was being spent in this connection.

Mr. Wedgewood again pressed for an answer regarding the Vickers and Marconi Bonds and asked whether representations had yet been made to the new Chinese Government. Mr. Cecil Harmsworth replied that the Government had not yet received information of the constitution of the new Chinese Government.

Empire Day Observed By All Of Shanghai Despite Bad Weather Conditions

Mosop, Acting Crown Advocate, Mr. H. G. Simms, Chairman of the Municipal Council and members of the Council, Mr. N. O. Liddell, Secretary and Commissioner General of the S. M. C., Mr. J. W. Ross, Canadian Commissioner, Mr. E. S. Little, Australian Commissioner, Mr. K. J. McEuen, Chief of Police, and Major Hilton Johnson, Deputy, Mr. A. L. Anderson, Chief of the Police Reserves, Mr. A. W. Burkill, Mr. E. F. Mackay, Mr. E. M. Gull, Secretary of the British Chamber of Commerce, Commander H. A. D. Gyles, Major Grierson, of the R. M. L. I., and officers from H. M. warships in port.

Headed by the Band, the detachments took up their allotted positions on the Consular compound shortly after 11.30 a.m. and before noon the parade—which also included a large detachment of mounted and unmounted Sikhs—was taken over by Col. Marr Johnson, who gave the order for the General Salute as Major General Sir John Fowler took his stand at the saluting base, accompanied by Mr. Garstin, Major W. J. Dyer, and Major General Fowler's A. D. C., Capt. Fisher.

The General Salute having been rendered, the General went round the ranks and inspected the troops, stopping for a second to talk to the Indian officer in charge of the mounted Sikhs, Capt. Barrett—who was in charge of the Indian contingent—being called in to accompany the inspecting officer on this part of his inspection.

The companies were then marched past the saluting base, Col. Marr Johnson falling out and taking his place beside Major General Fowler. The troops went past very steadily but pride of place must easily go to the Sikhs who maintained an almost perfect line.

Following the march past, three cheers were called for the King-Emperor by Col. Marr Johnson and were warmly accorded, after which, the parade was dismissed.

AT THE CLUB

The next function was the usual gathering at the Shanghai Club where British members were "at home" to the other members of the club. The proceedings were very short but most enthusiastic. There was a very large attendance when Mr. A. J. Welch, Chairman of the Club, proposed the toast of His Majesty the King, the band playing the National Anthem.

Public School Winners In Boy Scout Competition

period. None of the other troops accomplished the feat and their win gave the P. S. a lead of about 90 percent.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WINS

The rating of the various troops at the conclusion of the program was as follows, the troops during the ensuing year to follow the order in the matter of precedence at parade:

First—Shanghai Public School.

Second—Jewish Troop.

Third—A tie between the Cathedral School Troop and the Thomas Hanbury School Troop—Thomas Hanbury, by reason of their last year's win, to have precedence.

Fifth—Shanghai American School Troop.

Sixth—French School Troop.

The Public School boys were accorded a great ovation by the spectators for their work throughout the afternoon and hearty were the congratulations showered upon Scout Master S. Hore for the way in which he has organised and tuned up his contenders.

All of the stunts were good, and most enthusiastically were they contested—the memory test, the Morse wig-wagging, the obstacle relay race and the patrol drill—but perhaps the most effective and memorable part of the program was that devoted to the various troop "displays."

DISPLAYS MAKE HIT

The rain had slackened somewhat by the time this feature was reached and the attending crowd enjoyed it to the utmost. In each of the six displays the spectators saw a concise and appealing little drama of current or historic significance, eloquent of the time and labor which officers and Scouts expended in the building up of the "show."

The Public School Troop escorted the viewers to a scene in backwoods America, where they enacted, with admirable histrionic skill and in appropriate Indian costume, the historic incident of the saving of Captain John Smith by the redskin maiden Pocahontas. War paint, fringed leggings and feathers were visible in abundance and Captain John was salvaged to the satisfaction of all, after an exciting capture and many thrilling moments.

The American Troop hit a novel note by reverting to days of Shakespearian drama in its pristine state, with a flock of imaginary scenery—carefully labelled "This Is A Tree" etcetera—and purporting to date back to the palmy days on Mount Olympus. Jove slumbered instead of nodding but a galaxy of Scouts gamboled before him in Scout routine to such advantage that the Greek deity roused himself to expression of his admiration.

EXCITING SCENES

The Thomas Hanbury boys switched the scene to the African veldt and enacted an exciting dumb show wherein thieves and tribal chieftains engaged in terrific hand to hand combat, went through tracking exploits and finally wound up with a war dance.

The Cathedral School Troop staged the discovery of Livingstone by Stanley, showing the famous missionary in the African jungle, his treatings with the African chiefs, the antics of the Medicine Men when Livingstone lay wounded after the encounter with the lion, and the finding and death of the martyr, with tribal chants and mourning.

The French Troop created a sensation with their rendition of a skit called the "Gold Thieves." The gold was stolen from a party of prospectors. While they slumbered a pair of robbers entered and made away with the metal. They were captured. They were lined up on the brink of the sepulchre handily provided by the late resting place of the treasure. They were shot. They tumbled into the grave. The prospectors covered them completely with earth. The spectators fidgeted. They became really anxious. They perspired with worry about the fate of the two perfectly good Scouts whom they have seen tumbleded ignominiously into the earth and larded over with heavy clay. The worry was unnecessary. Previous to the enactment of the thriller the French Scouts had excavated a tunnel from the grave site to the open air and the two interred parties were above surface enjoying the effect before it was explained.

JEWISH TROOP GREAT

Probably the most effective stunt of the half-dozen was that provided by the Jewish Troop. They located their activities in Shanghai and the opening scene was that of a chorus of coolies busily engaged in inserting a pile into the camp grounds. The make-up was perfect. The melodious intonations of the leader were bewilderingly au naturel. The crowd thought that it had got out of the grounds and into the scene of some adjacent building operations. Suddenly there was confusion. One of the "coolies" carelessly got in the way of the pile driver and sustained an injured leg. A Scout patrol was almost immediately upon the scene. They bore the sufferer away on a stretcher improvised of staves and jackets. They returned to headquarters. On the way the alarm of fire was raised. There was a dash to headquarters and the Scouts emerged with Scout firefighting apparatus. The fire was choked off pronto. The whole effect was tremendously reacted to by the crowd.

At the conclusion of the displays the assembled Troops marched into formation around the flagstaff for the speechmaking finale.

Mr. H. B. Lane, President of the Shanghai Rotary Club, made the presentation to the Public School Troop of the Rotary Club Shield, won by the Troop for the second year in succession. In awarding the trophy he paid high compliment to the Troop and stated that the Rotary Club's purpose was to further all such endeavor and in general to work in accordance with the Scout principle of "doing good turns." Their confidence in the troopers' sincerity had been amply justified by the program which had been presented and he hoped that the Rotary Shield would always prove an incentive to earnest competition. If the afternoon's program was any indication the hope, he declared, would be more than fulfilled.

THANKS TO CLUB

In reply District Scoutmaster Millington thanked the Rotary Club for their munificence and said that nothing could have induced Scout work more splendidly than it had done. The best troop had won, he said, and was to be congratulated on the excellent showing made. He called for three cheers for the winning troop, which were lustily given, and the Public School lads responded with three rousing hurrahs for the losers.

The Scouts who are to be entertained by the Rotary Club at tiffin today were then called forward and introduced to President Lane. These include all Scout officers in active service, the three Scouts from each troop who sold the greatest number of tickets for the Jamboree, and the six patrol leaders of the winning troop—also the two Scouts who sold the most advertising space in the program, Patrol Leader Hickmott and Patrol Leader W. McCann.

In the general accordance of praise to the officials responsible for the show stress was laid upon the work of Assistant Scoutmaster N. F. Jacobs, organising secretary, who has been indefatigable in his efforts to bring the program up to the highest pitch of efficiency and the speech-making program wound up with three cheers for the District Commissioner, Mr. Millington, for the great success of the Jamboree.

Over $1,700 was realised through ticket sales for the Jamboree and an additional sum of Tls. 400 was secured through the sale of advertising space in the program, attractive program for the event.

New Tuchun To Save Chang's Face

After heavy fighting for about three hours, the Kiangsi troops withdrew to Fengmenao, where, upon receiving reinforcements terrific fighting took place for another five hours.

Later.—General Wang Ta-wei has captured Fengmenao and the Kiangsi troops have retreated to Niehtu, which General Wang has also taken. The retreat of the Kiangsi force has been cut off.

Chinese Press Telegrams On The Situation

Chang Tso-lin and his troops have reached Suichung district. It is reported that two bridges have been destroyed by his troops during their evacuation in order to prevent further attacks by the Chihli soldiers.

It is rumored that Chang Tso-lin's evacuation from Luanchow was due to the fear of being cut off home-bound route at Tsunhua and Yungping by the Chihli-ites.

Regular train service between Tangshan and Tientsin on the Peking-Mukden Railway has been resumed. It is expected that Yuikuan can be reached by next Sunday.

Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu have recommended Wang Chen-ping as Defence Commissioner of Shanhaikwan and ordered Tsao Ying to station at Luanchow with the 26th Division.

It is reported that delegates from the Fengtien Chamber of Commerce, the educational, industrial and agricultural organisations have been sent to Shanhaikwan requesting Chang Tso-lin to return to Mukden.

The foreign consular authorities at Fengtien have determined not to pay any attention to Chang Tso-lin's declaration of Independence of Manchuria.

General Feng Yu-hsiang has proposed to sell $400,000,000 Shantung railway bonds which has been approved by General Wu Pei-fu.

120 Tientsin organisations have written to the consular body that they will not recognise Tsao Jui as Civil Governor of Chihli.

General Chen Kuang-yuan of Kiangsi has telegraphed to the Peking Government for help saying that unless the Peking Government send help, and not empty words, at once, he will not be responsible for the preservation of peace in Kiangsi.

General Li Lieh-chun has sent out a telegram to the effect that he has captured Tingnan district on the 17th inst. and Anyuan, Shuikin and other districts on the 18th inst.

Wu Pei-fu has ordered Shen Hung-yin to move his troops to help the defence of Kiangsi. Lu Yung-ting has also ordered his son to Pingkiang bringing with him a large sum of money for Shen Hung-ying's soldiers as an encouragement.

Catholic Pilgrims Going To Zo-se

About fifty members of St. Joseph's Catholic Association are to make the pilgrimage of Zo-se in the week-end, leaving Shanghai with the President of the Association, the Rev. Father John A. Croke S.J., at 1:20 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Shanghai North Station.

The train is to arrive at Sungkiang at 2:46 o'clock and the party will reach Zo-se three hours later and spend the night there. On the return journey the pilgrim will leave Zo-se at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, arriving in Shanghai at 7:10 o'clock in the evening.

GIRL VICTIM AT S.V.C. INSPECTION IS BADLY INJURED

Miss Henrietta Santos, who was injured by an ammunition wagon after it had uprooted an electric light pole at the S.V.C. inspection on the Public Recreation Ground on Monday, is reported to be in a serious condition at St. Mary's hospital. It was at first thought that her injuries were confined to bruises.

Miss Santos was thrust into the path of the ammunition wagon after the electric light pole came down by the throng pressing to escape from the vicinity of the blazing live wire that fell in the roadway. The fear is held that when she was knocked down by the ammunition wagon her spine was injured.

HOW TO "GROW" A NEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "hustling." In a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant; we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, but old age. There is talk of rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands, but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

SCIENTIFIC BEAUTY.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives, this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now universally obtainable, gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The skin is thus perpetually renewed, and a clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

WANG SHIH-CHEN IS ASPIRING TO NEW PRESIDENCY

Possibility Of His Succeeding Hsu Seen By Peking Official

General Wang Shih-chen's aspiration to the Presidential Chair after the reconvocation of the 1917 Parliament is seen by a prominent Chinese official from Peking in a statement given yesterday to THE CHINA PRESS. The author sees in the telegram circulated recently by General Sun Chuan-fang, Commander-in-chief of the Forces on the Upper Yangtsze, which advocated the convocation of the old Parliament and the resumption of General Li Yuan-hung as President of the Republic, the possibility of the realisation of Wang's hopes.

Part of the text of his message may be translated as follows:

"Since the fall of Yuan Shih-k'ai, political chaos has reigned in every province and at all times. The main dispute has been hinged on the question of the legal president. Following the defeat of the Mukden forces in the recent Chihli-Fengtien combat, the clamor for the unification of the country is once more heard. Whether the reconvocation of the 1917 Parliament as suggested by various interests is the ultimate solution of the vexing problem or not, we do not venture to discuss. It this is done in an honest way, perhaps, it is.

"But there is the usual intrigue in connection with this propaganda as is common in all Chinese political strife. General Wang Shih-chen is taking this opportunity of increasing his influence with the hope that he might become the succesor of Hsu Shih-chang as president. Wang appears to be hesitating in accepting any position of responsibility but is in reality vigorously prosecuting his aims. He had up to the present refrained from active participation in the political arena, because he felt that Tuan Chi-jui was too adroit and Hsu Shih-chang too tricky. When Hsu Shih-chang ordered General Wang Huai-ching to mobilise his 13th division for an offensive against the Fengtien Army in the Western suburbs of Peking, Wang criticised Hsu's action and maintained that Hsu should not side with any party. His dissatisfaction over Hsu was most conspicuous.

"The circular telegram of General Sun Chuan-fang, commander of the Upper Yangtsze forces, which was inspired by Wang Shih-chen, not only advocated the re-convocation of the 1917 Parliament but also insisted on the restoration of Li Yuan-hung to the Presidential Chair. As a matter of legality, if Parliament is restored, Li naturally resumes his office. The fact that Li's name was mentioned shows that Wang insists that Hsu be removed.

"More than that, Wang Shih-chen knows full well that Li Yuan-hung does not wish to be meddled up in further political squabbles and it is almost certain that he would not go back to his old job. Therefore, if Hsu is disabled by the weapon of legality and Li, by his timidity, Wang Shih-chen will easily migrate from the Cabinet into the presidential chair."

To justify his contentions, the official from Peking pointed to the records of General Wang Shih-chen as indicative of his aspirations. He stated that during the Yuan Shih-k'ai regime, Wang served as Minister of War and when Yuan affected his monarchical restoration, Wang was created a member of the Imperial Council. Later, when Li Ching-hsi was asked to form a Cabinet, Wang offered to be and was appointed Minister of War but relinquished the office upon the advice of Hsu Shih-chen.

All these facts, according to the correspondent, are recorded in the government Gazette and had impressed deeply on the minds of members of the Peiyang clique.

French Find Way To Detect Japanese 'Synthetic' Pearls

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 23.—Two French scientists claim to be able to distinguish between Japanese cultivated pearls and natural pearls by introducing a minute mirror into the interior through a hole in the peal and photographing the interior. They claim that this will show a sharp division between the nucleus and the deposited layers in the cultivated pearl which is absent in the natural pearl.

Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

Police In Court On Graft Charge

Three Chinese police constables appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday for a remanded hearing on charges that they attempted to extort $10 from one Meng Zen-pau and assaulted him when he refused to pay.

The defendants testified, denying the charge, and other witnesses for the defense also gave testimony refuting the allegations of the complainant. The trouble started, according to the defense, when the complainant jostled one of the policemen in a tea shop, upsetting the latter's tea pot and breaking it. There were high words, the policeman declared, but there was no assault. The policeman further declared that the complainant was nursing a grudge against him and took this way of avenging himself.

The case was remanded for two weeks by Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh, who will give judgment at the next hearing.

London Comments In Tung Kang's Report

New York, May 23.—Kenneth Williams, Babe Ruth's latest rival and the batting star of the St. Louis Americans slammed out a home run with two men on bases today and helped St. Louis defeat the Yankees, 11 to 3. Babe Ruth was unable to connect for his customary clout.

TEAM SELECTED FOR MATCH WITH LONDON RIFLES

The selection of the Shanghai team to shoot against the City Rifle Club, London, and the North London Rifle Club took place on Sunday last. The matches will take place on Saturday and Monday, May 27 and 29, at 7 a.m.

With the exception of R. F. Wilner, C. G. Hoh and Y. C. Waung all members of the team shot in the previous match, when Shanghai won by a good margin. On account of stress of work necessitated by the rifle meeting over the week-end, A. M. Collaco who had been selected, asked the committee to withdraw his name from the list for Monday's match, and on this occasion F. E. Hodges will shoot instead.

The following is the team selected:

A. M. Collaco, L. J. Hughes C. G. Hoh, R. I. Ito, O. L. Ilbert, C. Luthy, W. T. Rose, W. E. Sauer, Y. C. Waung, and R. F. Wilner. Reserve: F. W. Snape and J. S. Chen.

American School And S.P.S. Expect To Control Scholastic Meet Saturday

Preliminary Heats Held On Tuesday Eliminate All Other Institutions

The best track and field men of local foreign schools will compete on Saturday afternoon for the honors of East China. The Shanghai American School and the Shanghai Public School are expected to stand out as the contenders. The Thomas Hanbury School and other local educational institutions which are expected to compete are not expected to figure.

The big meeting commences on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Heats for the preliminary rounds run off on Tuesday gave those two schools the advantage for the finals. It would appear that the meet was between the S. P. S. and the S. A. S.

The program includes the following events:

100 yard dash, 220 dash, 440 dash, mile run, 120 low hurdles, the Old Boys (Alumni) four-men half-mile relay, the 8-men relay mile race, and in the field, the hot put, the pole vault, the high ump, the discus throw, the broad ump, the cricket ball throw, and the 1,000 lb. tug of war.

The American School is counting on winning the bulk of the running events on Saturday's events with Caldwell in the 100 and in the 220 opposed to Brockett of the S. P. S., and Waters and Pierce opposing Brockett in the 440. Fisher and Hagar are expected to win for the S. A. S. in the mile over

"Began to think she would never get well."

Our Portrait is of Miss FLORRIE ORGAN, of 100, Clark Street, Ladywood, Birmingham, England, whose father writes:

"My daughter Florrie was suffering with a very bad head covered with Sores and Eruptions, and in fact her mother was afraid to comb her hair. She had been under several doctors, but all to no purpose, so I began to think she would never get well again and lose all her hair. As your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' cured me of Glandular Swellings in the Neck some years ago, and so averted my having to undergo an operation, I decided to give 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a fair trial in the case of my daughter, and I am pleased to say it effected a wonderful cure in just over a fortnight."

SUFFERERS from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Piles, Eczema, Boils, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout, should realise that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief; to be sure of complete and lasting benefit the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter the root cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes and expels the impurities; that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

JUGO-SLAVIA SAYS ENTENTE FAVORS ITALY

Zagreb, Jugo-slavia, April 30. —America is regarded by Jugo-slavia as her best friend among the big nations. England and France, long ardent supporters of the little Slav state, are now strongly disliked for their alleged favoritism toward Italy, Hungary and Albania. The Serbians feel that the Allies have dealt very harshly with Jugoslavia in all disputes arising with the three countries just mentioned.

"Why," they ask, "does the Entente impose such severe conditions upon us in all these matters when we have so loyally carried out the terms of the Peace Treaty and have fulfilled every request they have made of us, even when it involved sacrifices? Our great friends seem to have abandoned us, at least they appear to be indifferent to our welfare, and we are now content to work out our own destinies.

"The United States is the only country that is sympathetic and helpful toward us. It is the only country that understands our problems and struggles and that recognises the justice of our claims."

The Jugoslavs feel the Allies were especially severe with them in the recent Albanian boundary dispute. They assert that England ordered certain territory, especially in the Lake Ochrida region, given to Albania because British business interests had secured from the Albanians important concessions in that area, and it was vital the territory should remain in Albanian hands.

They affirm also that England and France have been favoring Italy in that country's territorial and strategical interests in Albania, to the great detriment of Jugoslavia. The Jugoslavs feel they got the "thin end of the horn" in the Fiume bargain, and that they also got the worst of it in the various territorial, economic and political disputes in which Italy, Hungary, Rumania and Albania were involved.

"The Allies," said a patriotic Serbian business man, "have alienated, if they have not forfeited, our friendship. In our disputes with Hungary, Albania, Bulgaria and other of our late enemies, the Allies have ruled against us. They have shown greater regard for the interests of those who opposed us during the war than they have for us. We are getting rather tired of it all. You will not be surprised then, if I tell you that somehow we Slavs feel that our real interests, our real future destiny, lies in joining hands with Russia. We believe Russia will one day rise out of the ashes and regain all its old strength, power and influence."

GOVERNOR ARRIVES

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 23.—Sir Laurence Guillemard, Governor of the Straits Settlements and High Commissioner for the Malay States, has arrived here.

Craig Says North Will Not Yield To Southern Ireland

(China Press Service)

London, May 23.—Dispatches from Belfast state that Sir James Craig announced that the North Ireland parliament declared the Irish republican army to be an illegal asembly.

Sir James stated he had told the parliament that Ulster will not make any concessions to South Ireland on the boundary question. He said "What we have we will hold."

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 23.—At a meeting of the Ardfheis or Sinn Fein Convention at Dublin today at which 2,000 delegates were present, a motion by Mr. De Valera, which was seconded by Mr. Collins, approved the agreement of May 20 for the formation of a coalition between the two Southern parties.

Mr. De Valera, who presided, said that the agreement for peace was a triumph for the nation, whose credit abroad had been seriously impaired during the past six months. The restoration of order and unity was essential to enable them to concentrate on the position in the North-East corner of the country.

Mr. Collins, referring to the statement that the ageement imperilled the Treaty, said that, if that were so, the situation must be faced whether it came from outside or from any quarter.

It was inconceivable that stable conditions in Ireland should injure anybody. North-East Ireland was making a desperate stand for ascendancy but the voice of the united Southerners could not be ignored.

The convention was adjourned until October.

London, May 23.—The arrests in Ulster were carried out by special police and were made chiefly in country districts. They were not confined to military officers and men but included, according to a Belfast telegram, every available Sinn Feiner.

Three hundred men were seized on the Tyrone border, sixty in Fermanagh, including the members of the Nationalist public boards, and fifty in Belfast, whence it is reported many Sinn Feiners had previously fled. The arrested men were taken to a secret internment camp.

Fourteen I. R. A. officers were arrested in Londonderry where the authorities announced large concentrations of I. R. A. irregulars in East Donegal recently in preparation for an invasion of that city.

The North Ireland Government today poclaimed the I. R. A., the Irish Republican Brotherhood, the Irish Volunteers, and the Cumannamban (Boy Scouts and Girl Guides) illegal organisations, the members being liable to arrest and prosecution.

A Cabinet meeting will be held today in London under the Presidency of Mr. Lloyd George to consider the situation.

the S. P. S. candidates, David and Tajima, while the 120 low hurdles are conceded to Waters of the S. A. S. over Kaberlitz of the S. P. S.

In the field, McDaniel of the S. A. S. is conceded the pole vault and possibly the high jump. Caldwell is expected to hold his own or better in the shot put.

It would seem, judging from past performances that the S. A. S. have a fair chance of taking the meet.

Tung Kang Chary About Accepting Finance Post

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, May 20.—The Chief Secretary of the President called upon Mr. Tung Kang this morning informing him that the President was prepared to issue a mandate appointing him Minister of Finance and that the announcement would probably be made this afternoon. He urged upon Tung Kang the necessity of accepting it, but the latter would give no definite answer inasmuch as he was not prepared to assume immediate charge of the duties and certainly not before the first Dragon Boat Festival. In this he was joined by several other officials whom the President is seeking to induce into the cabinet.

The President himself called upon General Wang and with great ceremony urged upon him the need for him to become premier inasmuch as he was the only man designated. General Wang Shih-chen insisted that the time was too early to organise a cabinet in view of the unsettled conditions now prevailing, especially not until after the Dragon Boat Festival when the Government is under obligations to meet very heavy liabilities and it is doubtful where the money is coming from. The other Ministers who were on the Presidential slate also declined to serve until after the Government had pulled through this difficult time.

MUST FINISH HIS WORK

General Wang also added another reason against his present assumption of office. He said that he had been declared one of the mediators between the Fengtien and the Chihli troops and as there was still fighting at Luanchow it was not proper for him to form a new government. He expressed his desire to wait until matters had been finally settled before going further.

It is believed that the President is particularly anxious to gather about him a new cabinet before the old parliament is reconvened or even proposed so that his position will be much stronger. He sent his secretary back to argue with Tung Kang especially begging him to take the portfolio of Finance without further delay. Tung Kang promised that he would reconsider it and give a definite decision this afternoon, but the indications are that he will decline to accept the position now.

It is also stated that the Vice Minister of Finance will be appointed before the Minister himself in order that there shall be some one to carry on the work. At the present moment, although still confined to his house, Mr. Chung is acting, and continues to affix his signature to papers brought to him.

It is said that Mr. Chung was offered his freedom under the condition that he would ride in a special Police automobile and promise not to go into the legation quarter. This he refused to do, perferring to remain a prisoner than to undertake such an arrangement which he considered to be extremely insulting.

STILL HOLD TO CHUNG

The necessity for having someone as a Finance Minister at this period when the necessity for finishing up the accounts prior to the Dragon Boat festival is becoming more and more apparent, and the authorities are finding it very convenient to hold on to Chung. It is unlikely that any cabinet official will accept a new appointment until this time has been safely passed.

It has also been learned that Kan En-hung will not accept the portfolio of Communications until after the dreaded festival and that a Vice Minister will probably be appointed in the meantime. The detention of C. S. Liu continues and is still the most damaging blot upon the policy of Wu which has thus far arisen amid the triumph and applause.

It is stated authoritatively that Wu himself ordered the arrest of Liu whom he believes guilty of treason. He has stated that he has the proof. The efforts of the foreigners of many different nationalities on Liu's behalf have only served to irritate Wu, according to members of his staff and the detention of Liu has been prolonged rather than shortened by their well meant efforts.

NEW CABLE LINE TO EAST IS PLAN OF AMERICANS

(China Press Service)

Washington, April 30.—American capitalists who are prepared to compete with the present Pacific communication system have proposed a cable route to the Orient much shorter than any now existing, and the proposal has come to the attention of the Government.

It involves the laying of cables along the Northern Pacific coast of the United States and along that of the Aleutian Isands. Because of the curvature of the earth's surface, the distance from Alaska to Kamchatka and the Japanese mainland is thousands of miles shorter than the usual route from San Francisco or Seattle by way of Hawaii and Guam.

It is the belief that the shorter cable route would make possible much greater speed, and experts predict that when the resources of Siberia are developed there will be an ample volume of business to make the venture profitable.

The capital necessary for the construction of the new cable system is understood to be available, and the principal obstacle is the question of diplomatic arrangements with the Vladivostok Government. At present private interests are conducting negotiations, but it is understood that the State Department has knowledge of the proposals, and that the support of the Government would be forthcoming in the event that any difficulty should arise with respect to this business arrangement.

It is the belief here that the laying of such a cable would have an important effect upon the international and commercial relations of the United States, and the progress of negotiations is being watched with interest.

The proposed new route to the Orient, in addition to being much shorter than that now in operation by way of Hawaii, Midway and Guam, overcomes a difficulty which heretofore has embarrassed American engineers in providing communication with the Philippines and the mainland of Asia. Between Guam and the Philippines there is a declivity in the ocean bed and strong ocean currents, tending to wear out the cables and causing continual trouble. The desire to avoid this condition was one of the reasons why the United States was so insistent upon having an equal footing on the Island of Yap.

It is also believed that as the new cable route would follow the line of the Aleutian Islands, American territory, the matter of protecting the cable would be quite simple for the American Navy and for the Insular Bureau of the army, which has under its control all matters pertaining to American territorial possessions outside the United States.

F. R. Sites Goes To Head Office Of Steel Company

Mr. Frederick R. Sites, recently appointed manager for China of the United States Steel Products Corporation in China, has been called to the New York office of Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the Board of Directors of the parent corporation in New York.

The honor comes to Mr. Sites after he served nearly two years as acting manager for China and for a short time as manager.

Mr. Sites and his family are sailing for America on the Empress of Canada, which leaves Shanghai June 9.

Doyle And Garland Differ On Spirit Manifestation

New York, May 1.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle replied today to the published statement of Hamlin Garland regarding spiritism, "in which the American author, who introduced Sir Arthur at his first lecture last Wednesday night at Carnegie Hall, disagrees with his friend and fellow novelist as to the interpretation to be put upon the spiritusic phenomena of which both have been witnesses and students for more than thirty years.

Mr. Garland asserted that the phenomena which have convinced Sir Arthur that the dead can come back to us are only the manifestations of unknown biologic forces of the human organism."

"I have read with much interest the remarks of my old friend Hamlin Garland," said Sir Arthur.

"I owe him a small grudge for this reason. He came to my house in England some twenty years ago and we had a discussion as between baseballer and cricketer. I contended that a baseballer ought to be able to take the strongest throw in without gloves, just as a cricketer does in the out-field. Hamlin Garland said that it would break his hands. I happened to have a baseball in the house so I challenged Hamlin Garland to come out on the lawn and break my hands.

GARLAND WON

"It so happened that Hamlin Garland is an exceedingly strong thrower. I stood on one corner of a tennis lawn, he at the other corner diagonally, and he passed the ball at me as hard as he could throw it in. I think I was able to hold it three times out of five, but I must admit that by the time I reached the fifth I had to propose some change of occupation for he would certainly have ripped all the skin off the palms of my hands if it had continued. I dare say that Mr. Garland remembers the incident as clearly as I do.

"No one could possibly take exception to his kind criticism of my views. His position is one which is proclaimed by Prof. Ricket of Paris and by other eminent authorities who have had experience of psychic phenomena but have not pushed them to what I consider to be their logical conclusion.

"Let me take a definite case. My brother, Gen. Doyle, came to me at a seance in Wales a year after his death, went into the most intimate details as to the health of his widow, who was in Copenhagen, and asked me to get her to consult a certain doctor in Copenhagen, giving his name.

On inquiry I found that such a doctor did exist. No one in the room could possibly have known of the fact. Now surely it is, on the face of it, a more probable thing that that information came from the spirit of my brother who was naturally concerned about the health of his wife than it was due to some extraodinary cosmic reservoir of knowledge out of which I had drawn this particular detail.

"One has to bear in mind what St. Paul said—and he was high authority on this subject—that there are no different spirits, but all the same spirit, meaning that we must not choose a different explanation for every fresh form of manifestation, but that we must find some central explanation which will cover it all. Now this can be done on the explanation of spirit communication, but otherwise, in the case of a psychic photograph, a materialisation, automatic writing or spirit lights floating round a room, we have to find separate explanations for every one of these phenomena, which is, I think, in contradiction of St. Paul's excellent advice.

"The fact is that in my opinion we tend to be too clever over this matter; we trip ourselves up with our own brains, and instead of keeping to the road which lies clear and open in front we take all sorts of devious bypaths leading often to a cul-de-sac."

In reply to Mr. Garland's contention that spiritist phenomena ought to be studied in the biological laboratories of the universities, since it is just as properly an object of scientific study as the radiograph or other forms of unknown energy.

SPIRITUALIST VS. SCIENTIST

Sir Arthur said:

"The simplest spiritualist, uneducated, with only human instinct to guide him, who believes that God has sent spirit manifestation as a comfort to the world and whose belief is a real acting religion, destroying fear of death, is nearer to truth than the great professors of science who endeavor by complex theories to explain away what is obvious.

"I do not believe that by pure scientific research ultimate truth will ever be attained in this matter. There has to be indeed a certain emotional and religious atmosphere before the great proofs come through. When the Apostles gathered together after Christ's death and had that wonderful seance, every part of which, such as the rushing wind, the tongues of fire and the voice from above I have myself experienced, they were, as the Bible tells us, in one accord, no doubtful, cynical member having been present to propose tests.

"The result was that they got glorious and sweeping testimony as to the spiritual forces around them. And that has been my own experience, that with one accord and with the religious atmosphere one gets positive psychical results which the man of the scalpel and the microscope can never approach."

Americans To Visit General Ward's Grave

Frederick Ward Post of the American Legion will make their annual pilgrimage to the grave of General Frederick Ward at Sungkiang next Sunday.

Members of the post have sent invitations to join the pilgrimage to various American organisations and the entire American community is invited to join the outing.

American Company, Shanghai Volunteer Corps, will fire a salute over the grave of the famous fighter and taps will be blown at the conclusion of the ceremonies. United States Consul-General E. S. Cunningham; Captain W. I. Eisler, commander of the post; and Major C. P. Holcomb, United States District Attorney, will give addresses. Accommodations may be secured through Mr. J. T. Wright at the United States Consulate-General.

Heavy Fines Given In Opium Sale Case

Charged with keeping opium for sale two Chinese shop assistants arrested Tuesday afternoon at 231 B. Kiangse Road were fined $200 each by Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui at the Mixed Court yesterday. A third man arrested in the raid was dismissed with a caution, the evidence against him being insufficient for a conviction.

In the raid made by Central police 77 packets of opium and a further quantity of the drug were seized. The opium was ordered turned over to the Customs for destruction.

PROPOSAL

For the purchase of the U. S. S. POMPEY.

Sealed proposals will be received at the U. S. Naval Station Cavite, P. I., until 10 a.m. on the 12th day of June 1922, at which time and place they will be opened, for the purchase of the U. S. S. POMPEY.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE POMPEY

Built at Sunderland, England, in 1897, by S. P. Austin & Sons, Ltd. Structure: Material, steel, propulsion, screw; rig, schooner; tonnage 786 Suez Canal; mean draft 16' 10". Speed: 10.5 knots. Length over all: 245' 0". Length between perpendiculars: 234' 0". Breadth on load water line: 33' 6". Displacement: 3085 tons (estimated). Draft: Aft. full load: 15' 10". Bunker capacity: (42 c. ft. 1 ton) 205. Main engine: tripple expansion vertical. Boilers: 1 scotch marine: 4 furnace; 1 auxiliary vertical tubular boiler about 300 H.P. Electrically lighted throughout. Two (2) generators, capacity—about 40 K. W. Two (2) search lights.

Present condition: Excellent. Recently overhauled. Ready for immediate service and equipped with boats; radio outfit; spare propeller and tail shaft; outfit of blocks and lines; hawsers; ground tackle; cabin furniture; galley equipment ovens; refrigerators; navigational instruments; auxiliary machinery spare parts; canvas outfit; awnings; windsails; staysails; large assortment of hand tools, etc.

The sale will be for cash to the highest bidder, who must remove the vessel, at his own expense, from the limits of the Naval Station within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Captain of the Yard, Cavite.

Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope addressed to the Commandant, Naval Station, Cavite, P. I., endorsed "PROPOSAL FOR THE PURCHASE OF THE POMPEY": and each proposal must be accompanied by a cash deposit or a satisfactory certified check for the full amount of the bid, or by a bond equal to the full amount of the bid and an additional cash deposit or satisfactory certified check for not less than 10% of the bid.

Apply to the U. S. Navy Purchasing Officer, Shanghai, China, for forms of bid and bonds; additional information regarding the terms of sale, etc.

Apply to the Captain of the Yard, Cavite, at 9:00 a.m. of any day (except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays) prior to the sale to examine the POMPEY.

The right is reserved to withdraw the vessel from sale or to reject any or all bids.

W. M. CROSE
Captain, U. S. Navy.

Physicians Want U. S. Government To Dispense Whiskey

(China Press Service)

St. Louis, May 23.—The American Medical Association overwhelmingly passed a resolution appealing to Congress for relief "from the unsatisfactory conditions" of the distribution of whiskey.

It asked the government to take over the distribution of liquor for medicinal purposes.

The resolution suggested that it be sold only in sealed packages of eight, sixteen, and 32 ounces.

Whooping Cough.

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

May 24, 1922

Spot and forward bar silver were each down ½d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 72¾ cents, and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 445.

The official Sterling rate this morning was unchanged from yesterday, but as the market was weak from the opening, the Sterling, T.T. rate was dropped to 3-7, the Gold Dollar rate to 79¾, the Yen rate raised to 59¾, and the other rates changed in proportion.

The market, while opening fairly steady, became easy in the course of the morning, and at one time developed great weakness when Sterling T.T. was done as low as 3-6¾ and Gold Dollars at 79.

However, just before the close rates steadied up somewhat, and the market closed with sellers of Sterling at 3-7 and of Gold Dollars at 79¾. Speculators were again heavy buyers today and there was little cover offering in the way of bills.

India and China sold silver in London yesterday, and the market there is reported to have closed steady, though in view of our weak market here today, a further drop in the London price would not be unexpected. New York reports its market as steady, but with rather more sellers than buyers.

Bottomley Pleads For Time, Says He Will Repay In Full

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 23.—Mr. Bottomley opened his defence today with a speech lasting one and a half hours. He said that the only question was whether he intended to steal money belonging to poor devils like ex-soldiers, who had subscribed to the Victory Bond Clubs. If he was convicted on such an indictment the jury would be bound to add a rider to the effect that he was insane.

Heaven grant, he added, that he would be liberated for a few days to resume work and to see that nobody lost money.

Whatever the depreciation in his stock, he said, he would prove that he was paying out much larger sums that he had received, therefore he was not guilty of fraud.

He declared that if subscribers had not clamored for their money his stock would have held today and would have realised a substantial profit.

Mr. Bottomley burst into tears on resuming his seat. The Court then adjourned.

Armored Train In Siberia Blown Up

(Dalta News Agency)

Harbin, May 16.—A partisan detachment of Anisimoff, after having laid several mines along the railway, made a military demonstration in the Romanovka village with a view to blowing up an armored train guarding Kangaus station near Vladivostok.

The armored train left the station at full speed and was blown up at the fifty-second verst from the station near a wooden bridge. It was then attacked by the partisans.

Amnesty Granted To Political Criminals

(Dalta News Agency)

Chita, May 16. — President Matveeff of the Far Eastern Republic declares that the authorities will take no revenge upon the enemies of the people provided they sincerely repent. To put this statement into effect, a draft is being urgently prepared for granting amnesty to certain categories of political criminals.

Labor Organisation Will Enter Politics

(China Press Service)

Houston, Texas, May 23.—The official entrance of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers into politics, which heretofore has been prohibited under the laws of the Brotherhood, took effect when the convention of that organisation unanimously passed a resolution to co-operate with other labor organisations in the political field.

Trotsky Asks Army To Use Forbearance Regarding Poland

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, May 14.—Trotsky in an article intended for the Soviet soldiers dwells on the lack of amicable relations with Poland, attributing it to the present imperialist intrigues and the recollection of the Czar's oppression of Poland. These unpleasant recollections are made use of by the Polish chauvinists to scare the Polish peasants with the bogey of Moscowite oppression.

The advanced Polish workmen know that this is false, but the backward ones and most of the peasants succumb to the imperialist deception, pushing the Polish chauvinists into seeking war with Russia and promising monetary and material aid.

Trotsky urges that all actions and even expressions which can be misconstrued by the chauvinists as anti-Polish must be avoided. He further says:

"Every Soviet soldier must remember Poland's tragic past, her martyrdom and unhealed wounds. We must convince the Polish people that we equally hate national oppression. By patient forbearance we will win the Polish people's confidence, destroying the poisoned weapon of the chauvinists.

"Peace to us and the Poles is equally indispensable; let the Polish people know that we are wholeheartedly for peace."

Trotsky Says Red Army Will Defend Soviet Program

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, May 14.—Trotsky in an interview with an American correspondent declared that Genoa had proved that the diplomats of Europe were not aware of the situation as they did not realise that the Russian revolution had opened a new era in history and could not be undone either by armed force or by persuasion. They wanted in Genoa to compel Russia to change her system of property, which is the same as Russia demanding that European capitalists give up their form of property by turning over their mills and factories to workmen.

Economic disorganisation will be rapidly aggravated if measures for restoring Europe are not taken soon. France is nearing a catastrophe, which will start with financial bankruptcy. Genoa is not the last word, and despite any interruption, negotiations are to be renewed in a more energetic way.

Trotsky does not think that a failure of the Genoa conference necessarily means the beginning of military actions against Russia, but if intervention should come, the Soviet soldiers will be faithful to their duty.

IODISED THROAT TABLETS
Allay all irritation

THE General Public is hereby notified that supplies of "IXL" IODISED THROAT TABLETS, the remarkable new throat remedy that is now being so largely and successfully prescribed by physicians in Great Britain, are now being made available for residents in China.

Representing the latest advance in scientific throat medication, these tablets, by reason of their iodine content, are indubitably superior to any other pastilles or tablets that have yet been evolved by scientific research.

Their use is positively indicated in all cases of Sore and Ulcerated Throat, Hoarseness, Quinsy, Throat Catarrh, Tonsilitis, Laryngitis, etc.

As a highly efficient throat disinfectant when epidemics are rife, IODISED THROAT TABLETS undoubtedly excel any other preparation yet put upon the market.

No malignant Diptheria, Influenza, or other germ can find lodgement on a membranous surface that has been subjected to the peculiar antiseptic influences of these tablets.

Pleasant to the palate, and allaying all irritation, each tablet, as it slowly dissolves in the mouth, releases, in harmonious combination with other fine quality medicaments, a specific quantity of the pure Tincture of Iodine, to soothe, heal, and sterilize the inflamed area.

WARNING:—All cartons of the genuine and original IODISED THROAT TABLETS bear the "IXL" trade-mark, and each tablet is embossed with the letter "A." Reject feeble substitutes.

All first-class chemists supply "IXL" IODISED THROAT TABLETS.

WEATHER

The typhoon continues to threaten the coast, between Hongkong and the Gulf of Tongking. Rough weather and cyclonic winds on the China Sea. Variable breezes further North. Rainy weather with mist or fog to the North of the Formosa Strait.

The Balance Wheel

HOW Britons regard the empire was abundantly demonstrated yesterday in Shanghai, and around the world with the path of the sun.

The empire seems to have been more closely knit by the Great War, with the changes due to evolution of governments, and the spirit of the times. The Imperial Council of the lion's brood in 1921 was a gathering of the British Commonwealth of Nations, all of whom were signatories to the Treaty of Versailles, and members with full status in the League of Nations. To effect that predominate voting power in world affairs without seeming to abuse it, is a particular triumph of British statesmanship.

Throughout the centuries in Europe disturbers of peace have mounted from the horizon. Stars of destiny, most of them, they have revealed more of ephemeral lustre, and less of destiny, when pitted against the sense of fair play in the island race. That traditional sense ever bade Britain support the under dog, whether against a Louis XIV, a Napoleon, or a Czar Nicolas.

Today, when one hears the screams of enraged nationalism in Europe, and the selfish ranting of politicians out to gain political ends, one can but thank God there is an arbiter of common sense, a check, a balance, a fly wheel attached to the European motor, and that is British statesmanship.

Were it not for that fly wheel the machine called European civilisation would wrench itself to pieces. The impetus toward hatred and national lines has gained momentum. Nothing can apply the brake but the hard sense of British statesmen, who have the backing of centuries of commercial and political honor, and the prestige of military and financial power, to make that hard sense effective.

The example of Britain is the symbol of hope to non-European countries that eventually all will slash budgets, reduce armies, and remove the baccilli which cause the chronic disorder. If Russian grain fields are again to supply the European flour bin, if the highly organised industries of Germany are to be utilised for the general recovery, if American aid can be brought to bear to lift Europe to her feet, it will be due, more than to anything else, to the sound program of prosperity for all laid down by Lloyd George. The process is slow, as the old gods die hard. But persistence has won many a forlorn hope in diplomacy, and the present one may be gained at The Hague.

What is really important to remember is that Britain, as the broodland of democracies, also gave rise to that kind of statesmanship now needed. When British statesmanship fails Britain will fall, and when Britain falls will fall the world, might epitomise the feelings of other peoples than Britons on Empire Day.

The Farthest Star

The record long distance for stellar objects is held at present by a faint globular star cluster which is 220,000 light-years from the earth, we are told by Isabel M. Lewis, of the U. S. Naval Observatory, writing in Science Service's Science News Bulletin (Washington). This cluster is known only by its catalog number of N.G.C. 7006. When the human race was still in its infancy, the light-rays that are now entering our telescopes from this cluster started on their journey at the speed of 186,000 miles a second. While these rays have been traveling, the sun with its planets has also been journeying onward at the rate of about one million miles a day, and has covered a distance of fourteen light-years. She continues:

Every 15,750 years the sun covers a distance of one light-year, which is equal to about six trillion miles. The nearest star, Alpha Centauri, is four and one-third light-years away, and the brightest star, Sirius, is eight and one-half light-years from the earth. So our solar system has traveled a distance greater than that which separates us from the nearest stars while the light from this cluster has been speeding toward us.

The method of measuring the distances and diameters of the globular star clusters was developed by Dr. Harlow Shapley, formerly of the Mount Wilson Observatory, now Director of the Harvard College Observatory. Dr. Shapley has made a detailed study of practically all of the known globular clusters, about seventy in number. The results of his investigations show that all of these clusters are at enormous distances from the earth. Even the nearest Omega Centauri is more than 22,000 light-years away, and many of the clusters are nearly as distant as N.G.C. 7006.

Measurement of the distances of the globular clusters are obtained through a determination of the apparent brightness of giant variable stars that exist in all of the clusters. The absolute magnitude or intrinsic brightness of the giant red and giant white variable stars is very accurately known. So when the apparent brightness of these stars has been found, the distance of the cluster they are in is obtained from a very simple relationship connecting the apparent brightness and the absolute magnitude or intrinsic brightness. In fact, now that the method has been perfected, there is less labor entailed in determining the distance of a globular star cluster many thousand light-years away than in finding the distance of the nearest stars by the trigonometric method of direct measurement, and the results are proportionally more accurate. It has been estimated that the errors in the values given for the distances of the globular clusters do not exceed one-fifth of the measured distances.

All the globular clusters consist of thousands of suns, many of which are several hundred times more brilliant than our own sun. Indeed, a star no brighter than the sun would be entirely invisible if located in one of these clusters. The diameters of some of the globular clusters are so great that light would take several hundred years to cross them.

In the most powerful telescopes N.G.C. 7,006 appears visually as a nebulous star, but a seven-minute exposure on a fast photographed plate has shown about two hundred stars in this cluster that are well within the limit of visibility of the greatest telescopes.

The Poet And His Book

BY ALICE MEYNELL

Here are my thoughts, alive within this fold,
My simple sheep. Their shepherd, I grow wise
As dearly, gravely, deeply I behold
Their different eyes.

Oh distant pastures in their blood! Oh streams
From watersheds that fed them for this prison!
Lights from aloft, midsummer suns in dreams,
Set and arisen.

They wander out, but all return anew,
The small ones, to this heart to which they clung;
"And those that are with young," the fruitful few
That are with young.

Jane Addams' "Peace And Bread In Time Of War"

Peace and Bread in Time of War. By Jane Addams. The McMillan Company.

REVIEWED BY ZONA GALE

That the instinct for bread-labor, the very antithesis of war, is more primitive and more imperative than the desire to war is one of the self-evident simplicities over which one pauses in June Addams's book, "Peace and Bread in War Time."

"These Russian soldiers said to their captors (in Austria-Hungary) now that spring had come they wanted to get back to work and so would like to be made prisoners at least long enough to put seed into the ground. They wished to put seed into the ground irrespective of its national or individual ownership."

She recalls one evening when she sat in the garden at Yasnaya Polyana and heard Tolstoy predict that the Russian peasants in their permanent patience, their insatiable hunger for bread-labor, might at least make war impossible to an entire agricultural people, who "do not change their ntures when they shed their blouses and put on the Czar-coat."

Miss Addams analyses at length the attempt of the Russian soldiers to lay down their arms and to return to the land. Rather, concerning that attempt she proposes questions which were not generally raised during the war when "all humanly tangible distinctions between normal and abnormal disappear" and the moral implications of the Russian attempt were not regarded. The profound political changes and democratic reconstruction with the allied nations expected to follow the war "when the animalistic forces which are inevitably encouraged as a valuable asset in warfare should once more be relegated to a subordinate place" may, she suggests, have begun to take place with that Russian demand to return to the land and to bread-labor, that "naive attempt on the part of the Russian peasants to achieve democracy without war."

"Did the Russians, for one golden moment, offer a way out? Or was the present outcome inevitable—Brest-Litovsk, the remarkable terms in the Versailles treaty, Trotzky's huge army, much of the present confusion in the world?"

She reminds us that twice before, in 1815 and in 1899, at the hands of Alexander I. and of Nicholas II Russia has at a crucial moment tried to initiate a machinery which should secure permanent peace for all nations. The third effort she names as "the spontaneous effort of the Russian revolutionist to break through the belief that any spiritual good can be established through the agency of large masses of men fighting other large masses, nd through their naive attempt to convert individual soldiers. The string of Russian soldiers talking to their recent enemies stretched from the Baltic Sea to the Carpathian Mountains. These simple men assumed that men wished to labor in the soil and did not wish to fight while all the rest of the world remained skeptical and almost rejoiced over the failure of the experiment before it had really been tried."

II.

From the Russian method she passes to the method of the United States. "As conceived by the pacifist, the constructive task of the United States was the discovery of an adequate moral basis for a new relationship among nations." There can be no more merciful or no more acute summing up to the "solution" of that task than hers, "It was indeed the human spirit itself which failed, but the human spirit under a temptation which an earlier peace might have diminished. . . ."

Her position, of course, is that the present confusion in the world is not only not inevitable, but is the bungling of our still primitive hands. As one reads one remembers her in the remote meeting in Carnegie Hall on her return from Europe before the United States entered the war—how she faced her audience with: "Does Serbia want a seaport? Then give Serbia a seaport. Does Russia need warm water harbors to export her wheat? Give Russia warm water harbors to export her wheat." So simple as that! Nothing but to break through to a level of world consciousness.

Jane Addams is not in the position of the reader of a detective story who to his own satisfaction can unwind the story at the end. She is the reader who from the first has tirelessly announced plot, clew and outcome. In asking Miss Addams to write this book setting forth the attitude of the pacifists in war time the publishers have secured for America that which Europe had even during the war: A first hand study of the mind which believes that rational thinking and reasonable human relationship are always valid in international affairs; that there are no exceptions; that, as Norman Angel! has it, "war psychology is fatal to social living. 'The ideas which produce war, the fears out of which it grows and the passions which it feeds produce a state of mind that ultimately renders impossible the co-operation by which alone wealth can be produced and life maintained;'" in short, that bread-labor and human co-operation, the two primary functionings by which the race has persisted, are menaced at their roots by war. Miss Addams presents the psychology of the lover of his country and of the world who in time of war continues to know that these principles continue to hold; that being basic they are not reversed by geographic political complications; that never by any possibility, no matter what the apparent provocation or exception, will these principles reverse themselves. She analyses the mind and the motives of such a one to whom, then, such a slogan as "making the world safe for democracy," or that other elderly rehabilitated "war to end wars" figure not only means nothing now but never did mean anything since these were always perceived to be at variance with simple facts in nature.

"It was hard," she says, "for some of us to understand upon what experience this pathetic belief in the regenerative results of war could be founded."

But then she asks: "Has the individual or a very small group the right to stand out against millions of his fellow countrymen? Is there not great value in mass judgment . . . even if one were right a thousand times over in conviction was he not absolutely wrong in abstaining from this communion with his fellows? The misunderstanding on the part of old friends and associates and the charge of lack of patriotism were far easier to bear than such dark periods of faint heartedness." But these doubts she finds to be only the yearning for mass activity which itself was first revealed to man, war workers through war work. And replying for the pacifists: "We could not lose the conviction that as all other forms of growth begin with a variation from the mass, so the moral changes in human affairs may also begin with a differing group or individual, who at best is designed as a crank or a freak and in sterner moments is imprisoned as an atheist or a traitor." The pacifist found himself facing a genuinely human trait with its biologic basis; the instinct to dislike, distrust and finally to destroy the individual who differs from the mass in time of danger, to which an estimated nine million people can bear witness who have been burned as witches or heretics by orders of civil and ecclesiastical courts."

But pacifists could offer the nobler biologic fact that co-operation in a larger sense, as Nicolai points out, has conditioned man's survival, and that war is not a natural process nor a struggle for existence in the biologic sense. And they had the certainty that "war is not inevitable but proceeds from definite and removable causes." In the end "the pacifist was forced to the conclusion that none save those interested in the realisation of an idea are in a position to bring it about and that if one found himself the unhappy possessor of an unpopular conviction there was nothing for it but to think as clearly as he was able and to be in a position to serve his country as soon as it was possible for him to do so." And "we asked ourselves what after all has maintained the human race . . . if not faith in new possibilities and courage to advocate them. . . . Doubtless many times these new possibilities were declared by a man who, quite unconscious of courage, bore the 'sense of being an exile . . . a fugitive from mankind.' . . . We certainly had none of the ineffable solace of the self-righteous which was imputed to us. . . . We slowly became aware that our affirmation was regarded as pure dogma, . . . and although had we been permitted we might have cited historic and scientific tests of our so called doctrine of peace, for the moment any such sanction was forbidden us.

"It therefore came about that the ability to hold out against mass suggestion, to differ honestly from the convictions and enthusiasms of one's friends did come to depend upon the categorical belief that a man's primary allegiance is to his vision of the true and that he is under obligation to affirm it."

There is something already historic in her simple statement of the hope of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, as if one were reading of the operations of a group of women who said not: "With it, my son, or upon it," but: "My son, use brains and not bullets." Their hope was and is to substitute consent for coercion, a will to peace for belief in war." For "the activity of life could be changed in no other way than by changing the current ideas upon which it was being conducted, . . . and we still believed it possible to modify, to direct and ultimately to change current ideas." This program has in it a ring and a resonance fit for the ages.

In a word, Miss Addam's summing up of her faith and of the faith of the pacifists which persisted through wartime is no less than a weighing of political upheavals against biological tendencies, and she puts her trust in biology.

". . . That it is a natural tendency of men to come into friendly relationships with ever larger and larger groups and to live constantly a more extended life. It required," she says serenely, "no courage to predict that endless desire of men who would at last assert itself, that desire which torments them almost like an unappeased thirst, not to be kept apart but to come to terms with one another. It is the very spring of life which underlies all social organisations and political associations."

She is so honest and so logical that it is impossible for the open minded to do other than to feel profound respect for her analysis, while for those who share her convictions she is a voice from the silence.

Lumbago.

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

The Rhyming Optimist

BY ALINE MICHAELIS

Said the parent to the teacher: "Johnny is a model boy, such a clever little creature, teaching him should be a joy. Study is but play for sonny, for he always leads his class and, of course, it may sound funny, but he isn't like the mass. He is ever kind to others, he is ever mild and good, treating all the boys like brothers, never in an angry mood. Johnny is my only treasure, purest gold without alloy; it will give you worlds of pleasure just to know my angel boy. One thought tears my soul asunder, keeps my heart with anguish wrung; little John is such a wonder I'm afraid he may die young!" Johnny's freckled face was scowling, Johnny's tousled hair was red, and he kept the small boys howling, for he filled their souls with dread.

He would send them fleetly speeding from the playground at recess with their little noses bleeding and their little suits a mess. Johnny's drawing and his writing were a sight for gods and men; he was better far at fighting than with pencil or with pen. He was prone to study deeply how to wield a baseball bat, how to make kids' noses bloody, how to climb and skin the cat. And the teacher said, with sadness: "Parents have such foolish fears, for if long life comes from badness, John will live a thousand years!" When at last they get together, ma and schoolma'am understood; studied John in every weather, every whimsey, every mood. Though they learned no wings were sprouting, still no vices marred their joy; and they joined in gleeful shouting: "Johnny's just a normal boy!"

New Law Makes Big Change In Immigration Figures

(China Press Service)

Washington, May 1.—As a result of the restriction of immigration by the 3 percent law, which is to be extended for another year at least, and of the continued departure of aliens, the increase of population of the United States by immigration virtually has been halted.

Between July 1, 1921, and February 28 last, 171,587 European immigrants were admitted to this country, but 129,173 departed, leaving a net addition to the population of only 42,414.

The law limiting immigration to 3 percent of the number of each nationality in the United States in 1910, was devised to halt the exodus of southern and eastern Europeans to our shores while leaving the bars down virtually for immigrations of the Nordic stock from Northern and Western Europe.

The result has been that the southern and eastern Europeans have crowded in to limit allowed, while only a small fraction of the allotted number of northern and western Europeans have migrated to this country.

Departures of the northern and western Europeans number less than one-third of the arrivals, while in the case of the southern and eastern Europeans, almost as many depart as arrive. There was a net gain of 36,051 of the former and only 6,363 of the latter.

Were it not for the shifting character of the movement of the Southern and Eastern Europeans, the aim of congress to safeguard the Nordic strain of American blood would show little sign or realisation.

NO IMMIGRATION MOVEMENT

"Figures show that there is no marked immigration movement to the United States from Northern and Western Europe," said Senator Colt, Rhode Island, chairman of the senate committee on immigration. "There were admissible under the quota law 197,649 from Northern and Western Europe, and only 51,981 were admitted, or less than one-third the number admissible.

"Out of 68,039 admissible from Germany, only 11,678 came, and out of 12,116 admissible from Norway only 2,745 came, and out of 19,950 admissible from Sweden only 4,026 came. Instead of conditions following the great war producing, as many predicted, an increasing flow of immigration from these countries, especially from Germany, these conditions have tended to check immigration.

"In regard to the immigration from Southern and Eastern Europe, we find this situation, a relatively strong immigration movement to the United States and a substantially equal return. From Italy 39,181 came in eight months and 42,371 departed; from Poland, 27,108 came in and 27,395 departed; 3,384 came in from Greece and 5,667 went back; from Russia, 9,569 came in and 4,665 departed—that is the only important exception where the number of those who departed was not in excess of the number who came in—from Portugal, 1,726 came and 4,923 returned.

A COUNTER MOVEMENT

"These figures show that, however strong the tide of immigration may be from Southern and Eastern Europe, it is met by a counter returning movement. If there are causes which impel a large body of these immigrants to come to this country, there are also causes which impel a large body to return to the country of their birth.

"One of the causes of the movement of the peoples from one country to another is economic and another cause political. I believe that economic rehabilitation of Europe has tended to check immigration and also tended to increase the returning flow. I also believe that destruction of autocracy and the establishment of new republics in Europe have tended to retard immigration and have also tended to increase the return movement. A striking example of the effect of political changes upon the return movement is shown in the case of the Polish race. In eight months from July 1 to February 28, 5,963 Polish immigrants were admitted to the United States, and 26,166 returned to Poland."

About The Famous

In his recently published "Memories and Notes," Sir Sidney Colvin devotes a chapter to Robert Louis Stevenson, whom he knew and whose works and letters he has edited. We get an interesting early morning glimpse of R. L. S. when he arrived from London at Sir Sidney's Norwood cottage: "He presented himself to my astonished servant on her opening the shutters, wearing a wornout sleeved waistcoat over a black flannel shirt, weary and dirty from a night's walking, followed by a couple of hours' slumber in a garden outhouse he had found open. He had spent the night on the pad through the southern slums and suburbs trying to arouse the suspicions of one policeman after another till he should succeed in getting taken up as a rogue and vagabond."

Hints For The Household

To chop jelly for decoration, have it rather stiff, turn it onto a sheet of wetted paper and chop it quickly and lightly, but not too small, with a sharp, clean knife.

To remove any unpleasant odor from the hands, wash them and before drying rub a tablespoonful of mustard over them. Then rinse thoroughly and dry.

When cooking a cracked egg, add a few drops of vinegar to the water and the egg will boil without breaking.

If fat for frying becomes hot before you are ready for it, put in a piece of dry bread, and this will prevent the fat from burning. Unless this is done the fat must be removed from the fire or it will burn very quickly.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
What is Castoria?
CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.
The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper of genuine Castoria Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"My patients invariably praise the action of your Castoria." W. W. Turvin M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
"I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children." J. W. Dinsdale, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
"During my medical practice I knew of several cases where your Castoria was prescribed and used with good results. E. Morgner, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.
"Your Castoria is the best remedy in the world for children and the only one I use and recommend." Agnes V. Sweetland, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"Your Castoria is certainly the greatest remedy for children I know of. I know no other proprietary preparation which is its equal." B. S. Schwartz, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.
"I have used your Castoria as a prescription in the cases of children for years past with most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy." H. D. Bertron, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.
In Use For Over 30 Years.

New Swedish Consul Arrives In America

Nils Jaenson and Family

ACCOMPANIED by his family, Nils Jaenson, new Swedish Minister to the United States, has arrived in America. He has gone to Washington to assume his new duties. With Jaenson are his wife and their children, Willie and Kitty.

European Slavs Plan One Federated State Like U. S.

New York, May 2.—A movement to combine the 300,000,000 Slavs of Europe and Asia into one big cultural, economic and political union, patterned after the United States, will be launched formally at a meeting of Slavs and Slav sympathisers to be held here in the near future. Some of those who expect to attend this meeting primarily for the organisation of the American Slav Society explained that the proposed consolidation of the Slavs would mark a final breaking away from Teutonic domination and would militate against the German and Russian alliance announced at the Genoa conference recently.

The American Slav Society is to be incorporated within a few days after the meeting, and it will make application for a charter under the laws of New York, according to Professor Pupin. The idea of Slav unification has inspired Slav patriots for centuries. The belief that there may be eventually a United States of Slavia, guided by the same principles of freedom laid down by the Constitution of the United States, and inspired by American philosophy and American institutions, has been a lifelong conviction of Professor Pupin, acknowledged leader of the Slavs in the United States.

"We expect to have about fifty or one hundred persons present at the first meeting," said Professor Pupin. "We will make a small beginning, but we are convinced that the movement will have a rapid growth. We hope to have within our organisation representatives of the Slav peoples in every part of the United States."

"The object of this society," says Article II. of its constitution. "shall be to encourage mutual, cultural and economic relations between American and the Slav nations as well as to promote in this country an interest in the study of the languages, literatures, history, culture and art of Slavonic nations and of American business, social and economic methods in Slavonic lands, thus making possible a closer intercourse and more helpful union between American and Jugo Slavs (Croatians, Serbians, Slovenes), Czechoslovaks, Russians, Poles and Bulgarians."

IGNORES RULE

The Russians, including the Carpatho-Russians, represent the largest group of Slavs in the proposed union of these peoples. Intercourse between the American Slav Society and the Russian peoples, it is believed, will not long be hindered by the absence of any recognised Russian Government. The American Slav Society makes it plain that it will have no dealings with any Russian Government that is not recognised by the United States.

"The society will further its aims," sets forth Article III., through existing agencies, and further the forming of contracts and associations between American and Slavonic cultural, educational and economic organisations and institutions."

The support of approximately 4,000,000 Slavs in the United States will be sought by the organisers of the American Slav Society, who have paved the way for the movement by the development of a literature on the subject. In one of the pamphlets issued by the friends of the movement, the reasons for enlisting American aid in Slav unification is set forth as follows:

"Until recently all Slav problems were seen through the eyes and spectacles either of Germany or Austria and of their professors. This was what might be properly called the German orientation, and almost to the end of the war the Allies have done a good lot of blundering through clinging to this orientation, so absolutely the reverse of the truth.

"The Austro-German policy opposing the struggle of the Slavs for independence and unification in their own Slav States was to foster and maintain in Middle Europe a whole group of smaller nationalities which could be kept under German-Magyer political control and economic subjugation.

"Against this mad and ruinous system America must take the very same resolute stand that she has maintained throughout the war to secure the peace of the world. The permanent establishment of small political and economic units in Central and Eastern Europe would mean the extension of the Balkan system of politics over the greater part of Europe, which brings in its train political rivalries, constant clashes of petty economic interests, and constant intrigues between the great powers—the system Balkanisation that plunged Europe into its recent bath of blood."

SEES AID TO PEACE

"Out of the cultural and economic union, the political unity of the Slav peoples, the United States of Slavia will follow in the course of time as a natural result, with all its immense assurances of the permanent pacification of such a vast area of the world's surface, and the powerful help which it will give to America and all the English-speaking peoples in maintaining the peace of the world."

Professor Pupin, who will probably be elected President of the American Slav Society, explained that one of the first concrete steps to be taken by the society would be the organisation of an American-Slavic Chamber of Commerce, to facilitate commercial intercourse between the American business men and business men of the various Slavic nations concerned.

The news concerning the spread of the movement will be chronicled in a monthly bulletin, the American Slav Review, to be issued by the society in Prague. The issuance of this publication is now being arranged by Professor Alphonse Mucha, the painter, who has been in that city for several months.

The response of Slavic elements in America to the movement for Slav unification has already been sufficient to warrant the belief that the American Slav Society will receive practically unanimous support, according to Professor Pupin. The organising committee includes, in addition to Professor Mucha, Chairman; Dmitri Vergun, Vice Chairman; Andrew Kalpischnikoff, Treasurer, and I. Mlacker, Secretary. The Executive Committee consists of Sarka B. Hrbkova, Professor Pupin and Mr. Vergun.

TO PREVENT RHEUMATISM

When the general health is broken down, if conditions are favorable for the disease, rheumatism is very liable to develop. Without these conditions of low vitality and weakened resistance nature will protect the body against disease.

In the development of rheumatism a marked feature is the thinning of the blood caused by the breaking down of the blood cells.

The best treatment for rheumatism is rest and what doctors call a "supporting treatment," that is, to restore and retain a high level of general health. Then nature corrects the disease.

With these facts in view it is easily seen how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills prevent and relieve rheumatism. They tone up general health. Taken after rheumatism has developed they begin at once to rebuild the blood, to restore its broken-down cells, and that is to directly combat the disease. External applications are never effective in the treatment of rheumatism because the disease is in the blood and must be fought there.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale people are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai at $1.50 per bottle, $5-for 6 bottles, post free

RICE PRICES UP

Despite heavy arrivals of rice from Bangkok Tuesday the price on the local market advanced 10 cents per picul for best quality yesterday and is now selling at $12.20. Inferior quality remains at $10 per picul.

Foxience merchants in Shanghai are making heavy importations of rice from Burma and it is expected yesterday's rise is only a flourish before the price settles down.
